Faculty

Elizabeth Rudolph, JD, MSN, RN

Elizabeth Rudolph is an attorney and nurse with many years experience practicing health care law in Memphis, Tennessee. She obtained her BSN, MSN and law degree from Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee.

Elizabeth founded JurexNurse.com in 2006, a company that trains nurses to be certified as Professional Legal Nurse Consultants. She saw in her law practice the tremendous need for properly trained Legal Nurse Consultants, also known as nurse expert witnesses, to review medical records in legal cases.

A nationally known speaker and author on legal issues in nursing, Elizabeth has provided over 2,000 presentations at conferences, seminars, and workshops. She has authored numerous publications on legal and nursing issues, many of which are available in books, courses, and online. In addition, Elizabeth has been featured in network television programming.

If you'd like to get Elizabeth's Free eBook Ten Ways To Avoid Getting Sued: What Every Nurse Needs To Know, please email her at: info@JurexNurse.com.

Dr. René Amaya, M.D., FAAP, CWSP

Dr. Amaya earned his medical degree from UT Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. He went on to complete his residency in pediatrics at Phoenix Children's Hospital/Maricopa Medical Center in Phoenix. He then returned to Texas to complete three years of specialty training in pediatric infectious diseases at Texas Children's Hospital/Baylor College of Medicine.

He is board-certified in pediatric infectious diseases by the American Board of Wound Management as a Certified Wound Specialist-Physician. He is currently employed by Pediatrix Medical Group in Houston as the local director of pediatric infectious diseases and pediatric wound care. He consults daily at 5 different hospitals. Dr. Amaya is a Board Member of the International Society for Pediatric Wound Care.

In addition to his clinical work, Dr. Amaya is well recognized for his research in complex pediatric wound care and for his numerous scientific conference abstracts and scholarly articles in medical journals. He enjoys teaching and lecturing at wound care conference and seminars throughout the United States and Europe.

Lori Woods, MSN, CNS, RNC-NIC, IBCLC

Lori Wood has been a NICU Nurse for 38 years, and a Neonatal/Pediatric Clinical Nurse Specialist for 14. Lori is the CNS at Eisenhower Health, Rancho Mirage CA. Lori is certified as an RNC-NIC in Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing and is an International Board Certified Lactation Consultant. Passionate about the use of human milk and promoting breastfeeding, Lori is a frequent contributor to conference presentations, creating curriculum and guidance content, and writing for nursing journals.
